FOI – 17-013 National Museum Cardiff items classed as stolen, lost or missing – Request for Internal Review

I refer to your request for a first-stage internal review into the Amgueddfa Cymru – National Museum Wales' (the Museum) handling of your request for information under the Freedom of Information Act 2000 (the 'Act'). I am responsible for undertaking the internal review you have requested. I confirm that I am unconnected to the original consideration of your request for information and I am more senior to the person who took the original decision.

Following my review, which I set out in detail below, I uphold the Museum's written refusal to respond to your request for information for the period prior to 2001, on the ground that to do so would exceed the appropriate limit, under section 12 of the Act. However, I do consider that it is appropriate to provide some information to you which is set out at Appendix 1. I comment on that further below.

The internal review

I have undertaken a first-stage internal review of the handling of your freedom of information request in accordance with the Information Commissioners' Office (ICO) guidance and the Secretary of State for Constitutional Affairs' Code of Practice on the discharge of public authorities' functions under Part I of the Freedom of Information Act 2000, issued under section 45 of the Act.

I have considered the following:

- The procedure followed by the Museum in relation to your request; and
- The basis for the written refusal of your request under section 12 of the Act.

The request

Your initial request was made by email on 2 September 2017, you asked for the following information:

Please note that my request relates to The National Museum Cardiff.

1...Does the [sic] The National Museum Cardiff keep a log and or a list of items in its collection which are currently classed as stolen, lost or missing.

2...Can you provide a list of all items currently regarded as stolen, lost or missing from the Museum.

3...In the case of each missing/lost/stolen item can you please provide its name, a brief description, and the age of the item.

4...In the case of each item stolen/lost/missing can you please state how much it is worth.

5...In the case of each item stolen/lost/missing can you please provide a copy of a photograph or relevant visual image.

6...In the case of each item stolen/lost/missing can you specify when The Museum first noticed it had vanished.

7...In the case of each item stolen/lost/missing can you specify when the item originally entered the collection. In the case of each item can you specify whether The National Museum Cardiff bought the item or whether it was gifted or bequeathed. In the case of each item can you state where it was display [sic] when it was stolen and or went missing.

8...In the case of each item can you state whether police were ever called to investigate its disappearance? What action if any did the police take. Did the police visit the premises of The National Museum Cardiff and if so when.

9...In the case of each item can you state whether it was insured.

The response

You received a response, by email, to your request from Elaine Cabuts, Museum Secretary on 26th September 2017.

A copy of the response is attached for your ease of reference, however a summary of the main points of the response is as follows:

- The Museum does not keep a single log or list of items which are currently classed as lost, missing or stolen;
- To provide a single list would require the Museum to review all reports made to the Performance Review Committee and the Audit Committee. These records are maintained electronically from 2001, but prior to this were archived in paper form.
- The Museum undertook a preliminary assessment and determined that, on the basis that:
  - the reference to items “currently” classed as stolen, lost or missing could relate to items lost or stolen many years ago but which remain so;
  - no definitive list is kept by the Museum and identifying and extracting the information, if it exists, would require a review of reports made to the Performance Review Committee and the Audit Committee; and
  - records of these Committees have only been archived electronically since 2001, and prior to 2001 were archived in paper form;

- the staff time required to find and retrieve the relevant documents and then extract the requested information would exceed the appropriate limit under section 12 of the Act; the appropriate limit for the Museum being £450.
- The Museum requested clarification of the term “collection” from you, for example, did this mean permanent displays only or based on a minimum value in order to narrow the scope of the request.

Ultimately, you did not provide any further clarification which narrowed the scope of your request.

Your request for a first-stage internal review

In your email to Elaine Cabuts, dated 4th October 2017, you requested an internal review of the handling of the request. This request was made on the basis that you were “unhappy with the Museum’s failure to provide the information it holds”. In particular, you said that you did “not accept that the request cannot be processed within the cost and time limits laid down by the FOI Act”.

You also provided, in your email, clarification in relation to what you meant by the term “collection”; namely “its [the Museum’s] overall collection of items”.

The procedure followed by the Museum in relation to your request

I am satisfied that the procedure followed by the Museum in responding to your request was appropriate and in accordance with the relevant steps required by the Information Commissioner in determining how to respond to a freedom of information request under its Guide to Freedom of Information.

The Museum:

- Identified the request as a request under the Act;
- Determined that the information requested could be identified (some clarification was sought from you in relation to what was meant by “collection”);
- Determined that the information may be held by the Museum but would require a search of the records of the Performance Review Committee and the Audit Committee to identify and extract any reference to lost, stolen or missing items;
- Considered whether responding to the request would exceed the appropriate cost limit;
- Responded to you, explaining that the Museum considered that complying with the request in its current form would exceed the cost limit and suggesting ways in which the request could be narrowed down, namely by clarifying what precisely was meant by “collection” and suggesting limiting the time the request relates to. The response to you explained that if the search was limited to the period 2001 onward (i.e. the period where the records are kept electronically and are therefore more easily searchable) then the information could be provided within the £450 threshold under section 12 of the Act;
- Complied with the 20 working day time-frame for responding;
- Informed you of your right to an internal review and to complain to the ICO in the event that you were unhappy with the response received.

The basis for the written refusal of your request under section 12 of the Act

I have further considered the Museum's refusal of your request on the grounds of cost under section 12 of the Act.

As I have outlined above, this refusal was based upon the fact that the cost of assessing whether the Museum holds the information you have requested would exceed the applicable cost limit. This is due to the fact that that compiling a list of missing, lost or stolen items would require an extensive search of the records of the Performance Review Committee and the Audit Committee, which have only been archived in electronic form since 2001, and which prior to this were archived in paper form only.

The Museum's initial response to your request for information suggested ways in which you could narrow your request to bring it within the appropriate limit under the Act; namely, by being more specific about the time period within which items may have gone missing or been lost or stolen, or by narrowing the range of collections. The initial response suggested that if your request was limited to the period from 2001 onwards (since when the records have been archived electronically) then the information could be provided within the appropriate limit.

In relation to your request, which included, and still includes, the period prior to 2001, as part of my first-stage internal review to determine whether it was appropriate to refuse your request on the grounds that it would exceed the costs threshold under section 12 the Act, I have undertaken a costs estimate in accordance with the Freedom of Information (Appropriate Limit and Fees) Regulations 2004 (the 'Regulations').

The Regulations permit public authorities to take into account only the costs it reasonably expects to incur in relation to the request in:

- determining whether it holds the information,
- locating the information, or a document which may contain the information,
- retrieving the information, or a document which may contain the information, and
- extracting the information from a document containing it.

My costs estimate in relation to your request is as follows:

Activity	Cost estimate
Review of all paper archives for Performance review and audit committee (or comparable committees) prior to 2001	3 x days x 1 member of staff at £25 per hour = £525
Review of all paper records for all collections	Unknown. There is an ongoing body of work to transfer the remaining 48% of the Museum's paper records for collections to digital format on the Collections Management System ("CMS") which is estimated to take at least 20 years. Reviewing the paper records for the purpose of the request is therefore likely to take an extremely long time.

As you will note the costs estimate based upon your request for information will exceed the cost threshold of £450 set out in section 12 of the Act.

As such, I uphold the Museum's written refusal to respond to your request, as formulated, on the ground that to do so would exceed the appropriate limit, under section 12 of the Act.

Information which can be provided

As I have noted above, and as was indicated in the initial response to you, it is considered that if your request was limited to consideration of the records held in the reports to the Performance Review Committee and the Audit Committee which have been electronically archived then a response can be provided to you. On that basis, I have concluded that the information relating to this period should be provided to you and that is set out in Appendix 1.

We have provided information drawn from all electronic information kept on the CMS for lost, stolen or missing items from our collections, which includes information prior to 2001 to the extent that it was included within the electronically archived material. This was material transferred to electronic format that we could extract within the timeframe and cost allowed under section 12 of the Act. The collections lists supplied have been corroborated through a check of the electronic records of lost, stolen and missing items reported through our Performance Review Committee and Audit Committee in the electronic records of these meetings held since 2001.

Further action

If you are not satisfied with the conclusions of this first-stage review, you may request a formal review by the Museum. When dealing with any concerns, we will follow the principles of the National Museum of Wales's Code of Practice on Complaints, which is available on our website at <https://museum.wales/freedom-of-information/publicaitons-scheme/> or by post from:

FOI – 17-013 National Museum Cardiff items classed as stolen, lost or missing

Thank you for your request for information. We have dealt with your request in accordance with the Freedom of Information Act 2000 (“FOIA”). As Museum Secretary for Amgueddfa Cymru - National Museum Wales, I am responsible for responding to your request for information.

THE REQUEST

I refer to your email of 2 September 2017 in which you asked for the following information:

RESPONSE

Question 1

The National Museum Cardiff does not keep a log or a list of items which are currently classed as stolen, lost or missing. Any items believed to be stolen or which are lost or missing are reported to the Performance Review Committee and Audit Committee, two of the Museum's Standing Committees. The minutes of those meetings are presented to the Board of Trustees of the Museum at the next Board meeting. Accordingly, while there is a record of losses/thefts there is no definitive list which we are able to provide.

This question relates to items in the Museum's "collection", could you please provide further clarification as to what precisely you mean by "collection". The National Museum Cardiff is a diverse Museum housing for example, prehistoric stone hand axes, Roman military equipment, medieval jewellery and Victorian coins, oil paintings, drawings and ceramics, insects, stuffed animals and shells, rocks, minerals and fossils, archives, photographs, historic books and learned journals. Objects in the Museum can thus vary in size from microscopic spores and fossils, on the one hand, to whale skeletons, and in value from items of very minimal or no financial value to considerable financial value, such as works of art, for example .

In addition, whilst many of our galleries house more permanent displays, we also have galleries which house a number of temporary exhibitions which change according to a rolling programme.

We would be grateful if you could provide us with more specific guidance on the type of items you are interested in and whether your request is limited to items in the permanent displays and also suggest that you set a minimum value on the items to be included in the definition of "collections" to make the information requested more manageable in terms of the time it will take to consider and respond to your request.

Questions 2 -9

Compiling a definitive list and the additional information requested would require a search back through the papers presented to the Performance Review Committee and Audit Committee to extract any relevant information. Since 2001 these papers have been retained electronically, but prior to 2001 any papers/records would be in paper form only and a search would therefore require a search of the archives.

Your request relates to items "currently" classed as stolen, lost or missing. Items might be currently classed as such but the theft/loss may have occurred many years ago. Accordingly, from our preliminary assessment, it is clear that we will not be able to answer your request without further clarification. Section 12 of FOIA makes provision for public authorities to refuse requests for information where the cost of dealing with them would exceed the appropriate limit, which for the Museum is £450.

Without a timescale limiting the search to a particular period, we estimate that the work required to determine whether we hold the information, finding the requested information or records containing the information, retrieving the information or records and extracting the requested information from records to respond with a list and the additional information you request will exceed the £450 or 18-hour time limit set out in s.12 of FOIA. Therefore, your request will not be processed further.

You may wish to refine your request by narrowing its scope by being more specific about the time period for thefts/losses. I would suggest that if the request related to the period 2001 onwards we would be able to carry out the work required within the 18-hour time limit.

Furthermore, your first question relates to items in the Museum's "collection". We await further clarification as to the meaning of "collection". Could you also confirm that all of your questions similarly relate to the Museum's "collection" as this is not stated in your request.

Your request was considered according to the principles set out in the National Assembly's Code of Practice on Public Access to Information (third edition). The Code is published on the Internet at www.information.wales.gov.uk.

If you believe that I have not applied the Code of Practice on Public Access to Information correctly or have not followed the relevant laws, please contact me to request a first-stage review. If, after that, you are still not satisfied you may request a formal review by Amgueddfa Cymru. When dealing with any concerns, we will follow the principles of the National Museum of Wales's Code of Practice on Complaints, which is available on our website at <https://museum.wales/freedom-of-information/publications-scheme/> or by post from:

Appendix 1

Context

Our collections date back to the 1870s and at this time there were no recognised standards and procedures for either documentation or collections management. In these early years Amgueddfa Cymru also absorbed a number of private collections (such as the 'Old Cardiff Collection') and the documentation for these collections again did not conform to any set of standards. Documentation standards across the museum sector have changed considerably over the last 25 years with the introduction of recognized national standards such as the Museum Accreditation Scheme, Spectrum (The UK Collection Management Standard) and PAS 197 (2009) Code of Practice for Cultural Collections Management.

In 1986, Amgueddfa Cymru developed a documentation strategy designed to improve documentation and collections management across the organisation. The Collections Management System (CMS) was rolled out across Departments between 1992 and 1997 and considerable work has been undertaken to improve the level of documentation and accountability. Amgueddfa Cymru has been a fully accredited museum since 1988 and documentation standards meet the requirements of PAS 197.

It has been a long process to align our collections documentation with the accreditation standard and the process of systematic audit and data entry is ongoing and will inevitably uncover missing items. Most missing items will have been misplaced, wrongly documented, or have come astray from their labels, and most will be recovered as we work through the whole collection. Other missing items relate to the old private collections that came into our care in the 1870s, and a number of low value items were selected for inclusion in the Museum's School Service collection in the 1950s and 1960s and not documented.

The percentage of objects recorded as missing is 0.1%. They are also very low value items.

Response to requester questions

1...Does the [sic] The National Museum Cardiff keep a log and or a list of items in its collection which are currently classed as stolen, lost or missing.

1. We do not keep a single list or log of items that are missing or stolen. Our collections are documented on 8 different subject / collection specific databases. Lists can be exported from each database but different disciplines / collection managers use slightly different field structures. We have calculated that to create a single list would take additional work beyond the 18 hour time limit. We have therefore prioritised gathering all the information from each database.

2...Can you provide a list of all items currently regarded as stolen, lost or missing from the Museum.

2. We are unable to provide a single list of all items currently regarded as stolen, lost or missing for the following reasons. It has taken staff at Amgueddfa Cymru – National Museum Wales over 20 years to move paper records relating to 52% of the 5 million items held by us onto our electronic CMS databases, and these collections continue to be added to every year. In deciding which items in the collection to prioritise for listing on the CMS system, priority was given to display, loan and high value items, so searches of the CMS to respond to your FOI request reflect this prioritisation. The items listed here as missing, lost or stolen represent just 0.1% of the objects catalogued on our CMS, and an even smaller percentage of the total collection. We are confident that many of these items will be found as we complete the process of audit.

The remainder of the collections, such as bulk fieldwork deposits and large excavation archives, are being systematically sorted, audited and added to the databases. All new acquisitions are similarly being added to the CMS to ensure we remain compliant with documentation standards as part of our accreditation. We continue to invest in documentation of our collections, both in terms of the actual documentation process, but also latterly in terms of enhancing access. We believe the completion of the remaining 48% of the collections will take another 20 years.

Within the 18 hour time limit we have been able to provide lists of items documented on the CMS tagged as 'stolen', or 'missing' (i.e. not found during audit as part of the documentation process).

3...In the case of each missing/lost/stolen item can you please provide its name, a brief description, and the age of the item.

3. The spreadsheets include accession number, identification, description and production date/period, where applicable. Geological time periods have been included but other Natural Science specimens are not dated in this way and so we are unable to provide their age. Records for Natural Science specimens focus on the recording of taxonomy and do not contain the type of description fields found in records for Archaeology and Art.

4...In the case of each item stolen/lost/missing can you please state how much it is worth.

Valuations are not provided for items in our collection, unless they are on loan to another institution. Approximate valuations are calculated for stolen items and this information has been included in the lists if available.

4. 5...In the case of each item stolen/lost/missing can you please provide a copy of a photograph or relevant visual image.
5. We are not able to provide photographs of the stolen and missing items. Prior to the widespread use of digital photography, objects were only photographed (or drawn) prior to use in publications, or for exhibition purposes, and not as a routine part of the formal documentation procedure. What photography does exist is currently only available in analogue format and not yet uploaded into our digital asset library. The Museum is currently working on the long-term project to digitise our collections.

6...In the case of each item stolen/lost/missing can you specify when The Museum first noticed it had vanished.

6. The date the item was first noticed to be missing (the date the collection was audited unless otherwise stated) has been included where recorded on the CMS.

7...In the case of each item stolen/lost/missing can you specify when the item originally entered the collection. In the case of each item can you specify whether The National Museum Cardiff bought the item or whether it was gifted or bequeathed. In the case of each item can you state where it was display [sic] when it was stolen and or went missing.

7. The accession number of each specimen begins with the year acquired. For example, for objects accessioned in the 1870s and 2000s the year is recorded in full. For objects accessioned in the 1900s the year has often been shortened. Thus an accession number beginning 1, is 1901. The only exception to this is Art, and for those objects the date of acquisition is recorded in a separate column. Method of acquisition has been provided and also, where recorded, the last known location.

8...In the case of each item can you state whether police were ever called to investigate its disappearance? What action if any did the police take. Did the police visit the premises of The National Museum Cardiff and if so when.

8. In 1988, 59 Roman coins were stolen from the former Roman Gallery in National Museum Cardiff; some were recovered but 32 are still missing. The theft was reported to the police and, as a result, changes were made to the Roman Gallery and considerable improvements in the design and specification of our display cases were implemented. Electronic records do not exist to record what was reported to the police for the theft of birds' eggs in 1965 or the stuffed animals taken from open display in the 1990s.

9...In the case of each item can you state whether it was insured.

9. In line with other National Museums and Galleries we do not insure items in our own collections. Items on loan are insured through the Government Indemnity Scheme or commercial insurance on a case by case basis.

2014.2H/13.2	Roman samian dish sherd, stamped		REGINI in tabula ansata, on Dr. 18/31, from Lezoux. The style is quite different from the normal, particularly the ansae, by no means common at Lezoux. There are two graffiti on the underside. The one within the base-ring seems merely to have been a spoil attempt at the other. This may perhaps be read p(anna) or p(átina) xiv - 'dish no.14' of a set belonging, perhaps, to a particular contubernium, which would certainly have had some vessels in common.	Roman		donation	Archaeology Stores	15/07/2014	This sherd/stamp was not found when the collection was documented in July 2014. It may have been retained by the University.

25.1/521	Roman copper alloy knee brooch			Roman	purchase	Archaeology Stores		On 2nd May 2012, some of these items were returned whilst the others are presumed lost. These are:
25.1/600	Roman pottery flagon sherd	Coarse red ware. Four ribbed handle. This type occurs at Chester (Deanery Field) in late first-century deposits. Single example.		Roman	purchase	Archaeology Stores	12/09/2002	1 curving tile (imbrex) 25.1/101 2 antefixes (25.1/115, 117)
25.1/618	Roman pottery flagon sherd	Good buff ware. Three-ribbed handles. Laguna with well-modelled cup mouthpiece and short neck passing smoothly into globular body. Not closely paralleled, but for similar small two-handled vessels Cf. Corbridge, 1911, Fig. 8, 91, 93 (second half of second century). The present example is apparently derived from the heavier two-handled amphorae with cup-mouthpieces and globular bodies. Single example.		Roman	purchase	Archaeology Stores	16/09/2002
25.1/624 i	Roman pottery jar sherd	Fumed grey-black ware, with burnished sides and rubbed lattice		Roman	purchase	Archaeology Stores	03/09/2002
25.1/635	Roman pottery jar sherd	Badly levigated grey ware, with grey slip. A waster, warped and overfired.		Roman	purchase	Archaeology Stores	04/09/2002
25.1/636	Roman pottery jar sherd	Coarse dark grey ware. A waster owing to overfiring. The form suggests third-century date (cf.42, below). Cf. 75-7 below for the sharper modelling arising from the copying by the legionary potters of the "native" form.		Roman	purchase	Archaeology Stores	04/09/2002
25.1/642 b	Roman pottery jar sherd	Hard grey ware.		Roman	purchase	Archaeology Stores	10/09/2002

25.1/645	Roman pottery beaker sherd	Pear-shaped beaker of yellow-buff ware. More elongated body argues a later date. For a similar, but probably earlier example, cf. May, Carlisle Pottery, Pl. IX, 117. Single example.	Roman	purchase	Archaeology Stores	04/09/2002
25.1/650	Roman pottery jar sherd	Good grey ware. Neck and body demarcated by a slight rounded offset. Probably late first-early second century.	Roman	purchase	Archaeology Stores	04/09/2002
25.1/659	Roman pottery dish sherd	Good buff ware. A small example. Slight internal offset at base.	Roman	purchase	Archaeology Stores	16/09/2002
25.1/661	Roman pottery dish sherd	Coarse buff to red ware. Three examples of the large intumed rim type. In 134 the tendency is not so marked as in 136. 135 shows the combination of chamfer and intumed rim represented by four examples. Fifteen examples in all. A solitary example is in grey ware.	Roman	purchase	Archaeology Stores	16/09/2002
25.1/669	Roman pottery dish sherd	Fumed grey-black ware. Straight-walled dish scored with intersecting arcs on outer wall and irregular scroll pattern on base. two examples.	Roman	purchase	Archaeology Stores	16/09/2002
25.1/724	Roman pottery bowl sherd	Buff ware, slightly blackened by fire. Reeded flange-rim, with two-girth grooves on body, and two lugs unevenly placed above middle. The technique of this unusual vessel is closely similar to that of the flanged and carinated bowls and it is probably of similar date. Single example.	Roman	purchase	Archaeology Stores	24/09/2002
25.1/725	Roman pottery bowl sherd	Pinkish-buff ware. Bowl with everted rim, the upper wall thickened and overhanging the lower. Perhaps an imitation of the Samian form Walters 81 - cf. Richborough, i, 108 ("probably late third of fourth century").	Roman	purchase	Archaeology Stores	12/09/2002
25.1/725	Roman pottery bowl sherd	Grey ware. Carinated bowl with band of rubbed lattice pattern on shoulder, demarcated above and below by wide girth-grooves. An unparallelled form.	Roman	purchase	Archaeology Stores	12/09/2002
25.1/726	Roman pottery bowl sherd	Coarse grey ware with brown core (? a waster). Carinated bowl with bead-rim and raised foot stand. Cf. Richborough, i, 23, dated late first-early second century.	Roman	purchase	Archaeology Stores	12/09/2002
25.1/727	Roman pottery bowl sherd	Hard grey ware. Wide reeded flange and wide shallow girth-groove above blunt carination. Cf. Caerleon, i, Fig. 32, 79 (Flavian).	Roman	purchase	Archaeology Stores	12/09/2002
25.1/733	Roman pottery bowl sherd	Large flat-bottomed bowl of coarse pink-buff ware. Single example.	Roman	purchase	Archaeology Stores	24/09/2002

38.231/1-2	Roman finger ring	"The larger ring has been cut through at one point (and is nearly broken through also at another). Roman finger rings of course are usually bezelled, but there is a late Roman tendency to confine the bezel within the unexpanded breadth of the hoop: eg the ring found within the Whorlton hoard, and this (the larger) ring may be compared therewith as an example of no bezel at all. ... At the same time, these, hoards also contain rings which seem to be possibly or certainly not finger-rings at all, and your smaller (beaded) ring may not be either; I am not sure about its being originally a perfect hoop. But all the same, I think on the whole it is better explained like the larger one. I should not be surprised at any date between 250 and 450."	Roman	purchase	Archaeology Stores	19/05/2000

44.181/5	Medieval ceramic floor tile	Lewis Group 31. Plain tiles Distinctive fine, pale pink fabric streaked with white, and with a thick white slip up to 5mm thick, glazed a bright green or yellow; bevelled edges and plain bases. The tiles are undecorated and range in size from 150mm to 160mm square and from 24mm to 32mm in thickness; there are also diagonal half-tiles. These tiles are thought to have been made somewhere in the Seine valley. There is documentary evidence that tiles were exported through Rouen and Le Havre c.1490-1530, the largest consignment being in 1526-7 (Allan & Keen 1984; Norton 1993b). 62.203/A.3	Early Medieval copper alloy ring	Large ring of semi-circular section, it's outer face decorated with incised diagonal lines. It appear to have been made by bending a short a short strip of Bronze, the ends of which had first been carefully tapered off so as to lie flush; the join may then have been soldered. This curious technique appears on some Bronze rings, presumably of Roman date from Caerwent (Mon). The Large size of the ring suggests it was worn on the thumb or toe, unless it is the ring from a loose-ring pin.	Early Medieval	donation	Archaeology Stores	26/01/2005
